DAILY PITTSBURGH GAZETTE.

MONDAY AFTERNOON, DECEMBER 16, 1833.

REMOVAL OF THE DEPOSITS.—We publish, to day, the response of the President to the call made by the Senate, for a copy of the reasons for the removal of the deposits, which was read to the Cabinet, in September last. He declines to furnish a copy, alleging that it was a confidential communication to the members of his own council. If the paper had remained among the secret transactions of that cabinet, it would seem very manifest that the Senate would have no right to call for it; and if, under such circumstances, a call were made, he would be justified in refusing to comply with it.

When, however, a different course is pursued—when this paper, after being read to the Cabinet, and having produced the desired effect there, is afterwards ushered forth to the world, through the official paper, with the weight of the President's name and popularity, with an evident design to influence public opinion, the question would seem to be a different one. It is, then, no longer a mere confidential communication—it is no longer a portion of the private deliberations of his own advisers. It would seem, then, to be too late to take this ground.

In this paper, our readers will recollect that the President, in a kind of braggadocio spirit, more becoming a "half horse, half alligator" Kentuckian, than a President of this great Union, exclaimed—"I take the responsibility." The responsibility, which he then assumed, seems now to be of a more limited character than was then understood. It was then supposed that, inasmuch as this paper was then published to the whole world, this annunciation of the assumption of responsibility was intended to be equally extensive. It now seems, however, that this was all a misapprehension of this matter. This pompous, high sounding, and fearless assumption of responsibility was only made to the members of his own Cabinet, to those creatures of his own creation, who were dependent upon his breath for their offices and their salaries.—In this view of the matter it does appear most truly ridiculous—like the laboring of the mountain and the coming forth of a mouse.

Mr. Taney, it seems, after all, is to take the responsibility; and the high sounding declaration of the President was nothing more than a vulgar, contemptible, popularity trap, truly worthy the Kendalls and Blairs of the kitchen cabinet. This is all right, in one respect—Mr. Taney is receiving the wages and enjoying the office earned by his servility, and it is but just that he should bear the burthen, and the odium, and all the responsibility of the act.

From the Pennsylvania Intelligencer, the organ of the National Republican party, at Harrisburgh.

"We believe that by the late vote in the Legislature, which resulted in the election of Gen. McKean, for the United States Senator, the identity of the National Republican party in Pennsylvania was lost. Not that the principles on which this party is based are destroyed, for these are eternal. They are the peculiar principles of Pennsylvania, and are cherished by the great body of the voters of this State. But the national republican organization has been broken in upon—an amalgamation has taken place, which will probably be lasting. We should not be surprised, if hereafter, there were but two organized parties in this state. The Democratic party and the Antimasons. There is no more hopes of a party, than there is of an army, after its ranks are broken, and the cry is heard among the flying, "let every man take care of himself."

CONGRESS.—On the 11th instant, Mr. Clay's resolution, calling upon the President for a copy of the paper, purporting to have been read by him to the Cabinet, relative to the removal of the deposits, was adopted, by a vote of 27 to 18.—On the 12th inst., the President sent to the Senate the following paper, declining to comply with this call:

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12, 1833.

TO THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES:

I have attentively considered the Resolution of the Senate of the 11th instant, requesting the President of the United States to communicate to the Senate "a copy of the paper which has been published, and which purports to have been read by him to the Heads of the Executive Departments, dated the 18th day of September last, relating to the removal of the deposits of the public money from the Bank of the U. States and its offices."

The Executive is a co-ordinate and independent branch of the government, equally with the Senate: and I have yet to learn under what constitutional authority that branch of the Legislature has a right to require of me an account of any communication, either verbally or in writing, made to the Heads of Departments, acting as a Cabinet Council. As well might I be required to detail to the Senate the free and private conversation I have held with those officers on any subjects relating to their duties and my own.

Feeling my responsibility to the American People, I am willing, upon all occasions, to explain to them the grounds of my conduct; and I am willing, upon all proper occasions, to give to either branch of the Legislature any information in my possession that can be useful in the execution of the appropriate duties confided to them.

Knowing the constitutional right of the Senate, I shall be the last man, under any circumstances, to interfere with them. Knowing those of the Executive, I shall, at all times, endeavor to maintain them, agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and the solemn oath I have taken to support and defend it.

I am constrained, therefore by a proper sense of my own self respect, and of the rights secured by the Constitution to the Executive branch of the Government, to decline a compliance with your request.

ANDREW JACKSON.

The Message having been read,

MR. CLAY rose, and said, that the call to which this message was a response, had been made upon the President, after full deliberation. The right to make it was founded upon the presumed act of the President. It was founded upon the fact of the promulgation of the state paper emanating from the President, relating to the removal of the public money of the people of the United States, with the President's assent and direction. That paper had been published to the world, with the sanction of the President. It was now in the full possession of the people of the United States. It had been published to make an impression; and it had made a deep impression on their minds. But still it had been published on authority alleged by the editor of a newspaper, to be derived from the President,—Whether the paper was, in fact, genuine, or, if genuine, whether it was promulgated with the President's sanction, were questions, respecting which we have no evidence, but that which the assertion of the editor, the paper itself, and concurring circumstances, afforded. In this situation, it was by (Mr. C.) himself, and he supposed by those who voted with him in supporting the call, deemed due and respectful to the President, due to the Senate, and due to the whole country, to appeal to the highest source of information in relation to this subject, and to request an authentic and official copy of the paper itself.

This call was in conformity with established usage, coeval, he (Mr. C.) believed with the Government. Whenever either branch of Congress desire a public paper in the possession of, or proceeding from, the Executive, it has called for it.—Innumerable instances of such calls are to be found in the journals of the two Houses.

In this case, the President refuses to comply with the call; and, undertaking to judge of the rights of the Senate, and of the rights of the Executive, pronounces that the call is not one which the Senate can constitutionally make, or with which it is his duty to comply. Whatever sincerity and strength may exist in the opinion of the President, they cannot be greater than those which are entertained by him, (Mr. C.,) and he has no doubt by the majority of the Senate, that they have a right to an official copy of the paper. He had expressly disclaimed all right of intervention between the President and his confidential advisers. Every such purpose, was and is, distinctly disavowed.—If the document had remained confidential, it would not, and could not have been called for. It is because it had ceased to be confidential, and has been made public by the authority of the President himself; because he has broken the seal of confidence, and published to the world a highly important state paper, affecting the custody and safety of the Treasury of the people of the United States, and the immediate, if not the sole cause of the most important act ever performed by the Executive of the United States, that the call has been made. And is it come to this, that the whole world, including the people of the United States, may be put in possession of such a paper, and that an official copy of it shall be denied to a co-ordinate branch of the Government?

But, Mr. C. said, it was not necessary, nor was it his purpose, to proceed any further in this matter. He desired the highest and most authentic evidence of the paper in question. It has been applied for, and is refused. And now, by all the dictates of common sense, and according to all the rules of evidence respected here or elsewhere, he was at liberty to use the best evidence in his power; and he should hereafter use, on all fit occasions, a copy of the document referred to as publised in the current newspapers of the day.

There is abroad so much studied misrepresentation in regard to the alleged curtailment of the business of the Bank, that we have collected from the most authentic sources the following statements of the comparative reduction of loans and of Government Deposits. The Deposits were removed on the 1st of October.

On that day these deposits amounted to	$9,868,435 58
On the 2d day of Dec. they amounted to	5,162,260 63
Making a reduction of	4,706,174 95

The business of the Bank at these two periods was

	Loans.	Domestic Bills.	Totals.
Oct. 2,	42,226,275 42	17,867,927 51	60,094,203 93
Dec. 2,	38,780,567 49	15,672,537 18	54,453,104 67
Redu'n	3,445,707 93	2,195,390 33	5,641,099 26

From which it appears that the reduction of loans was only $3,445,707 93, while the reduction of public deposits was $4,706,174 95.

The decline in the amount of the domestic bills is not a reduction, properly speaking, since it is the natural result of the maturity of bills previously purchased. But supposing them to be what they are not—an actual reduction—it will be seen that the total reduction is only $5,641,099 26, while the reduction of Government Deposits is $4,706,174 95.

This will be seen more distinctly in the following comparison of the business and deposits of the three places where the pressure is ascribed to the reductions of the Bank, that is, at Philadelphia, New York, and Boston. At those places,

	The Loans were	Domestic Bills.	Public Deposits.
Oct. 2,	12,509,778 15	6,317,700 28	6,871,626 64
Dec. 2,	11,639,130 47	4,037,642 70	2,830,864 01
Reduc'ns	870,647 68	2,280,057 58	4,040,761 83

Making the actual reduction of loans only 870,647 68, on a reduction of Government Deposits of $4,040,761 83.

And taking the bills into consideration, the whole reduction of loans and bills will be only $3,150,705 26, for a reduction of deposits of $4,040,761 83. And all this at a moment when secret drafts to the amount of $2,300,000 were hanging over the Bank.

It will be seen how little reason there is to complain of the reductions of the Bank.

It fact, the Bank so far from endeavoring to oppress the State Banks, has treated them with the greatest liberality. Thus the debt from the State Banks, on the 2d of October, was $4,719,972 80

On the 2d December, 4,083,260 15

A diminution of only $636,712 65

While the Bank reduced its own business upwards of five millions. The truth is, the Bank has not yet begun to curtail its discounts seriously.—National Gazette.

From the Correspondent of the Philadelphia Commercial Herald.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11, 1833.

Mr. Clay's amendment to the resolution offered by Mr. Benton, and his resolution on the subject of the genuineness of the paper read by the President of the United States to his Cabinet, have caused great fluttering, and not a little dismay, now that it has been reduced to a certainty that the majority of the Senate will sustain these calls. The Charter of the Bank of the Metropolis; of this city, to which the deposits were removed, will expire in 1836, and it is whispered that this Bank, by not complying with one of its provisions, which requires an annual report to the Treasury of its condition, has already forfeited its charter. Perhaps the Directors sagaciously inferred that the Treasury knew well enough the condition of this Bank, which is an old standing debtor of the U. States, and has never until now, been considered of unequivocal solvency. The effect which would be produced by the removal of the Deposits seems never to have been fully understood before the experiment was made, and now the light has suddenly burst upon the world. It is currently reported that Mr. Taney begins to discover that he has been hurried to a step which he would willingly recal if he could. He has thrown the entire business of the Department out of its usual routine, and produced a state of confusion which he knows not how to remedy. Complaints are also pouring in about the inequality which has already displayed itself in the currency, and the losses to which, in consequence, all those are liable who are in the pay of the Government. The action of Congress is likely to be prompt; but whether it will remedy the evil, it is yet too early to predict with any confidence.

You will see the movements in the Senate concerning the removal of the Deposits. It was a hand grenade which Mr. Clay threw into the camp, and it produced great consternation and confusion. It is said by some, but I cannot say on what ground, that the President will refuse to send the Senate a copy of the paper read by him to the Cabinet.

It is said to day, that the number of Jackson men who are ready to vote for the violation of the contract entered into by the last Congress with Gales & Seaton, is 101, and that the question is to be tried to morrow.

The President gave a dinner yesterday, and it is rumored that the proceedings of the Senate are carefully kept from him, by order of Mr. Kendall, whose influence is described as irresistible.

A good deal of anxiety was expressed to day by one or two Senators, for the arrival of the Pennsylvania Senator, in order that his vote may at once be tested on the great subject of the deposits. There is no doubt that the majority in the Senate against the act will be seven, perhaps more; but in what form the question will be put, whether as a joint resolution for the restoration of the momey, or in what other shape, is not yet determined. Forsyth was unhappy to day in stating for the first time the idea that the President might be impeached. The thought certainly did not seem to have suggested itself to any other legislator, and there was a general smile when the Senator from Georgia gave utterance to it.

PENNSYLVANIA LEGISLATURE.

Tuesday, Dec. 10.—In the House of Representatives, Mr. Robinson reported a bill to repeal certain election laws in the city of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Bratton reported a bill to recharter the Bank of Pittsburgh.

Wednesday, Dec. 11.—Mr. Hilands presented a petition from Thomas Fairman, for the repeal of a law relating to a certain alley in the city of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Robinson offered the following resolution, which was adopted.

Resolved, That the canal commissioners be requested to report to this House the advantages in their opinion to be derived from adopting speedy measures to complete the connection by canal, between Pittsburgh and Beaver, and what bearing it will have in connection with the construction of the cross cut to connect with the Ohio Canal, and also upon the completion of the canal to Lake Erie.

Mr. Heston offered the following, which was adopted.

Resolved, That the Bank of Pennsylvania, and the Philadelphia Bank, be, and they are hereby requested to inform this House whether they have made any offers to the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States to take a part, or the whole of the Government deposits within this state, and if so, whether such offers have been accepted.

Mr. Patterson of Armstrong, offered the following, which was adopted.

Resolved, That the Canal commissioners be requested to report to this House, their opinion of the expediency of constructing a navigable feeder to the canal from the Allegheny river, above the mouth of the Kiskeminitas.

An act for the repeal of a law altering the election of Mayor, and other purposes, in the city of Pittsburg, was considered in committee of the whole and on 2d reading postponed one week.

Thursday, Dec. 12.—Mr. Robinson presented a petition for the incorporation of the Orphan Asylum in Pittsburgh.

Reports of the Committees.—Mr. Wallace, from the Judiciary committee, reported that the petition of Thomas Fairman of Pittsburgh, ought to be referred to a select committee, which was agreed to.—Messrs. Hilands, Robinson and Lacock were appointed.

Mr. Crawford, from the judiciary committee, reported unfavorably on the petition of the citizens of Allegheny county, for an increase of compensation for witnesses.

Mr. Robinson reported a bill for the inspection of salt in the city of Pittsburgh and the Northern Liberties.—Pa. Intel.

The Trade of the Lakes.—The following is an extract from an address to the people, of a Canal Convention lately held at Meadville, to take measures to extend the Pennsylvania canal to Lake Erie. It will give the reader some idea of the increase of the commerce of Lake Erie, but it can give him but little idea of what that commerce will soon be. When the shores of Lake Erie, Huron, Michigan, and Superior are settled—when millions of enterprising and civilized men inhabit that interesting country; all the outlets of trade to the Atlantic, now in contemplation through the States, will not have sufficient capacity to accommodate the trade that will then be carried on.—Pa. Intel.

From the Report.

"In the year 1828, it is believed that there were were about fifty schooners, and six steam boats engaged in the navigation of Lake Erie. If we estimate the burthen at an average of eighty tons, which is believed to be nearly correct, it would exhibit an aggregate of 4,480 tons. It is now ascertained, from official documents, that the present amount of tonnage on Lake Erie, including vessels now on the stocks, is 15,690 tons; which, at the same average of eighty tons, would make the number of vessels amount to one hundred and ninety, in which number are included more than twenty steam boats, many of which are of the largest class, all of which are engaged in a constant and profitable employ; showing that the amount of tonnage on the Lake has increased more than three fold in the short period of six years."

According to a morning paper, it is proposed to establish one or two more banking institutions in this city. Relief from them must come too late. The "pressure in the money market" in this city is unexampled in its annals. The evil resembles the Cholera, in its tendency to spread over the country, and alight particularly on the towns. All this suffering and danger proceeds from the abuse of the Executive power at Washington. Congress alone can supply the corrective.

The President, in his last message, styles "the condition of our beloved country" happy. It might indeed, be indisputably so, but for his war of aggression on the Bank. His Secretary of the Treasury is obliged to contradict him by reciting great evils and pointing to devouring quick sands—all produced by the designs and machinations of his favorite advisers. If the National Bank had been let alone, all would have remained well, and abundantly prosperous. Every circumstance conspired to render money plenty and the currency sound and equal. And, now, the authors of the portentous change of affairs, charge upon that institution the necessary consequences of their own selfish plots and desperate measures! To screen their own culpability, they resort to the boldest hyperboles and the foulest aspersions:—to bear out their mischevous coups d' etat they assume for the Executive branch prerogatives subversive of our republican system, and attempt to mystify Congress and the country with verbose fallacies and a sort of legerdemain executive responsibilty.—National Gazette.

The opening of the Branch Rail Road through Broad street, and that of the Penn Township Rail Road Company, was celebrated on Monday last, with the usual formalities, by the Members of the City Councils and of the Rail Road Company attended by their respective Engineers, Mr. Trautwine of the former, and Mr. Campbell of the latter, together with a numerous assemblage of invited citizens. Although the novel sight of the cars passing heavily laden through the city attracted large crowns, no accident occurred to mar the pleasure of the trip, which was greatly heightened by the appearance of the first business transaction in the shape of a train of coal cars from the new wharves erected by the Penn Township Rail Road Company on the Schuylkill at Fair Mount. The procession stopped for a few minutes, until the Coal was transferred from the road to the cellar of Mr. Burk's beautiful mansion in Broad street, an operation which was greatly facilitated by a new contrivance for passing the cars to and from the rails. The fears of many who supposed that the introduction of the Rail Road into the city would interrupt the common traffic, were completely allayed; the path of the cars being continually crossed in every direction by vehicles whose drivers and horses exbibited as little concern as at the passing of an Omnibus. Cars will now run daily from South street to the Bridge at Peter's Island. A view of that noble structure will of itself amply repay the expense of the ride.—Poulson.

LATE FROM EUROPE.

The packet ship Montreal, Capt. Champlin, arrived this morning from London, having sailed from Portsmouth on the 8th ultimo. Capt. C. has favored us with London papers to the 7th, inclusive.

Paris papers to the 5th had reached London.—They contain advices from Madrid to the 28th of Oct. The ceremony of proclaiming Queen Isabella lasted three days, during which the strongest demonstrations of attachment to the young Queen were manifested. The disarming of the Royalist volunteers took place on the 27th. It met with resistance, and some bloodshed. The number in Madrid was about 4,000. It was again reported that Saarsfield had reached Vitoria.

It was believed that Don Carlos was in Castelbranco, and that his family had been made prisoners at Abrantes, by the troops of Don Pedro. It is also said that Don Miguel had taken refuge in Spain, and that orders had been issued to secure the person of Bourmont.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—City, Wednesday evening.—The Consol Market has been firm to day—last price 88 1-2 for account. In Spanish and Portuguese stocks there is a tendency to decline—there appears, however, to be nothing unfavorable in the letters from Madrid. A letter from Madrid states, that a Parisian capitalist had offered to loan the present Spanish Government to any amount it might desire.

The scarcity of money having become less severe, there is more business doing in our Colonial Markets.

The English papers are very busily discussing the state of the country—the poor laws—the decline in English shipping, and the state of Ireland. Mr. O'Connell is making, according to the London Courier of the 6th, much noise in Ireland—declaring that nothing can save the country but a repeal of the Union; to which he pledges himself as a devotee until he shall either succeed, or die in the attempt. He dwells much npon the 'Force Bill,' and now considers a separation "not as a means, but as an end never to be abandoned until there shall be an Irish Parliament in College Green."

The English journalists are greatly alarmed at the unsettled state of every thing—even the 'Courier' knows not what to make of it. It will be seen they admit that 'Legislation, as a science, is now only beginning to undergo discussion,' and mourn over the increase of crime, and the inefficacy of their poor laws, and their criminal code.

Runjeet Sing, a Rajah of India, has sent to England, through an individual in Calcutta, for a Steamer, adapted to the Indus. It is also the intention of the British Government to get out iron steam vessels to be employed on that river.

The manufacturers and dealers in cotton and silk piece goods, the fabric of Bengal, have signed a petition to the King in Council, complaining of the import of the fabrics of Great Britain into Bengal without any protecting duties, while manufactured cottons are charged ten, and silks twenty per cent., on importation into Great Britain, and paying an equality, either on terms of free trade, or a like amount of duty.

The Nashville Banner says that the stock of the "Tennessee and Fire Insurance Company, amounting to $300,000 was taken on the 4th inst., in about fifteen minutes. The books for the sale of stock in the Planters' Bank are to be opened on the first of January.

The Cumberland River, on the 5th instant, was too low for steam boats.—Louisville Herald.

A famine is seriously anticipated in the Southern Provinces of Russia, and it is expected the ports of the Baltic and Black Sea would be thrown open for the free importation of grain and flour. Letters represent the situation of the people as miserable beyond power of description. An agent of the estates of Prince ——— says, though furnished with pecuniary means, I can no where find sustenance for the poor starving creatures, confided to my care. I see men daily rolling upon the ground, unable to work, for want of food. The price of a pood, or 40 lb. of rye meal, which in days of abundance can be purchased for 30 copecks, and at no time have I ever known it higher than 150, is now at 400 copecks, and I should not wonder to see that price doubled. The rot, in some places, has broken out among the cattle, and serious apprehensions are entertained that the cholera will make its appearance; whole villages, with their furniture, may be seen moving towards the North, selling as they go along almost every article, for the purchase of a scanty meal.—Poulson.

The British ship of war Rattlesnake arrived in England, Oct. 27, from the Pacific, with two millions dollars on freight.

At Madras, in June, the heat surpassed any thing previously known at that Presidency; people were dying of heat alone, without any actual disease.

COTTON.—The market has been fair during the last few days. Sales as follows: of Western District Tennessee, 490 bales at 12 3-8cts; 200 at 12 3-4; 300 at 12 3-8—of Tennessee, neighborhood of Nashville, 370 at 12 1-2—of Mississippi and Louisiana, 340 at 14 1-4; 68 at 14 3-4; 1300 at 13; 950 at 15; and 1400 at 13cts per lb. round. Arrived since the 15th inst: of Louisiana and Mississippi, 11,728 bales; Lake, 238; Florida 59; Mobile 42—together, 120,67 bale. Cleared in the same time; for Liverpool, 1485; Havre, 4857—together, 6332 bales; making an addition to stock of 5735 bales, and leaving on hand, inclusive of all on ship board not cleared on the 21st instant, a stock of 69,103 bales.

Liverpool Classification.—Ordinary, —— a ——, Middling, 12 1-2 a —, Fair, 13 1-2, Good Fair, 14 a 14 1-2, Good and Fine, 15 a 16—all in fair demand.

SUGAR.—In the city, some sales have been made at 7cts for that of very good quality, but the article is not much in demand at that rate. The market in general rather dull at 6 1-2 a 7cts per lb: on plantation, 7cts is the highest rate of which we have knowledge, and several planters, who always make fine crops, have sold at that rate.—Cleared this week: for Charleston, 61 hhds. 756 bbls.

MOLASSES—Is in very good demand, and the article is taken at once, whenever opportunity occurs, at 21 cts. per gallon; the planters expect 28 cts.; in the city sales have been made at 22cts.—Cleared this week for New York, 194 hhds. 76 bbls; Charleston, 127 bbls.

Statement of Tobacco.—Stock on hand 1st October, 1833,717 hhds; arrived this week, none; arrived previously, 229; exported this week, 22; exported previously, 667; Stock on hand, 257 hhds.

FAIRBANK'S PLATFORM SCALES.

THESE scales are constructed upon an improved principle; are fitted up with great care by the manufacturers, and warranted to weigh with accuracy from half a pound to 12,000. Being placed in, and forming part of, the floor, the process of weighing is performed with ease and facility, while the space they occupy may be improved as a passage way or for other purposes.

The construction of these scales is such that they are little liable to derangement of wear, and their perfect operation will be guaranteed for any reasonable length of time.

The usual objection, that a new method of weighing cannot be safely entrusted to unskilful hands, is obviated by the use of the improved BALANCE, concerning which are the following remarks in the Journal of the Franklin Institute, of the state of Pennsylvania, for the promotion of the Mechanic Arts, for June, 1833. (Edited by Thos. P. Jones, M. D., late Superintendent of the Patent Office, at Washington, Professor of Mechanics in the Franklin Institute, &c.

"The Messrs. Fairbanks, some time since, obtained a patent for a Platform Weighing Machine, and this mode of adjuating and graduating the Beam of the Balance, and the weights, was devised by them with a view to its employment with the before mentioned machine. We have had an opportunity of examining one of their balances, and have been much pleased with it: this examination, however, was not necessary to the conviction that it possesses a just claim to the character of a real improvement, the whole arrangement being so simple as to enable any person to perceive that it is well adapted to the purpose contemplated, that of facilitating the business of weighing, and more especially of heavy articles."

The subscriber, as Agent, will receive orders for the above Scales, which will be made in this city to order. They can be seen at his Warehouse, No. 84, Front street.

Nov. 8, 1833. MOSES ATWOOD.

SALE OF REAL ESTATE.

THE Subscribers, Trustees of the New Philadelphia Society, at Phillipsburgh, Beaver county, Pennsylvania, offer for sale the following property, to wit:

1	tract of land	containing	330 acres
1	do	do	330
1	do	do	67
1	do	do	7
1	do	do	40
	other lots, containing about		6

The above lands lie in one body, fronting about two miles upon the Ohio river—immediately opposite the mouth of Big Beaver creek, and the Beaver Division of the Pennsylvania Canal. The land is rich, and a part of it under a high state of cultivation—its location pleasant and healthy. The improvements upon the same are valuable, including the town of Phillipsburgh, late the residence of Count Leon, and the New Philadelphia Society. The town contains about 40 Dwelling Houses, now in order; some of them brick houses and two stories high. A large and spacious Hotel, a Store house, Church, a number of Shops, for mechanics, Stables, Barns, and other out houses. Also, two large new buildings, lately erected, but not yet finished, one of brick, the other of frame (the latter suitable for a manufactory) a very extensive public garden, and also fruit trees of various kinds. The property has also attached to it the right of a ferry across the Ohio, which is valuable, and becoming more so every day.

The above property is situated in the midst of a wealthy and prosperous country, distant about 28 miles below Pittsburgh, and one mile from Beaver, the seat of justice for Beaver county---and having a view for many miles up and down the Ohio, and of the country to a great distance around.

The subscribers are confident in saying that few situations could be found, presenting greater facilities to the farmer, mechanic, the manufacturer, and others--- a soil rich and productive---the neighborhood abounding in coal---well timbered and watered, and, by means of the Pennsylvania Canal, and steamboat navigation, a cheap and ready conveyance to market, and a communication with other places is ensured.

The property is susceptible of divisions into farms, or for the location of new towns, or for the extension of the present one.

Should it not be sold on or before the first day of January next, it will then be offered at public sale, upon the premises, to the highest and best bidder.

It will be sold in a body, or in parcels, to suit purchasers.

Terms of sale will be reasonable.

Information can be had by enquiring of the subscribers, two of whom live in the neighborhood, and one on the premises.

SATIN BEAVER
HAT MANUFACTORY,

NO. 6 ST. CLAIR STREET,
PITTSBURGH.

WILSON & SMITH, from N. York,

RESPECTFULLY inform the citizens of Pittsburgh and the neighboring towns, that they have commenced the manufacture of the above beautiful and elegant article, so much admired and worn throughout Europe, and the principal cities in the United States.

W. & S. beg leave to observe, that, after various experiments, they have at last succeeded in bringing this Hat to the highest state of perfection, and they can assert, with confidence, that in point of color, lightness, elasticity, durability, and general beauty of appearance, they cannot be surpassed by the most expensive Hat that is made. Gentlemen are invited to call and examine them, and judge for themselves.

Wholesale Dealers supplied at the same prices as in the New York markets.

DOCTOR ROBERT'S
☞WELCH MEDICAMENTUM.☜

FOR the cure of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints. Jaundice, Cholic, Fever and Ague, Dysentery, Headach, Loss of Appetite, Flatulence, Hypochondria, Hysterics, Dropsical Complaints, and Heartburn, It also prevents all Bilious disorders, and removes habitual Costiveness, Asthma, Strangury, Gravel, Rheumatism, Gout, and Impurities of the Blood.

A person who uses this Medicamentum will not require the use of the lancet, or any means of the healing art. It restores and revives the animal spirits, invigorates the system, removes nervous tremors, obtunds rheumatic and anthritic pains, and prevents their return. It cleanses the stomach of all morbid humors, which cause indigestion, acidities, headach, and lowness of spirits; cures all bilious disorders, and all cholics of the stomach and bowels, almost immediately; inspires cheerfulness; gives comfort to the dropsical; takes away palpitation of the heart; gives circulation to the blood; restores bloom to the sallow or sickly cheek, and plumpness to the meagre habit; purges without pain, and banishes all cause of fever of every kind. It acts on the stomach, that great reservoir of the human system, a diseased state of which causes all diseases. No alteration in the usual habits of life is required, but the abstaining from distilled ardent spirits.

CERTIFICATE,
From Rev. Derick Lansing, D. D., Pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church in Utica.

UTICA, Jan. 6, 1830.

To Dr. Hitchcock.—Dear Sir: I have always been one of the number of those who have placed little confidence in nostrums or specifics, and for this reason, although I saw your advertisement of the Welch Medicamentum, I could not bring my mind to consent to use it. My sufferings, from indigestion, during the past summer, were so severe, as materially to affect my comfort, and my capacity for usefulness. I have reason to thank you, sir, that, on hearing of the state of my health, you kindly sent me your Medicamentum. I have taken it faithfully, and with entire success. I have not been visited with one of those turns of distress, which before were weekly periodical, since I began to take your valuable medicine. Could I receive the same relief which I have hitherto experienced, on condition of taking it for life, I should cheerfully comply with such condition. Your's, very truly, D. C. LANSING.

ANTI-DYSPEPTIC ELIXER.

ONE of the most agreeable and efficacious Medicines ever discovered for the permanent cure of those chronic states of derangement of the stomach, constituting that miserable disease called Dyspepsia.

The basis of this Elixer s vegetables, and perfectly innocent in its operation; it destroys that sour state of the stomach, the instant it is taken, and stops the morbid secretion, by giving strength to the muscular fibre of that important organ, by which means the peristaltic motion of the intestines is increased, and the costiveness obviated; a new action is given to the system, which puts an end to a train of distressing nervous sensations.

Another form of the disease in which the Elixer is admirably calculated to relieve, is the decline of fever, where the stomach will not bear the ordinary strengthening medicines indicated in such cases, it has the surprising effect of giving vigor, and restoring the natural secretions of the body, without increasing the febrile state. Not the least danger is to be apprehended from exposure to cold, while under the use of this medicine, nor will it interrupt necessary employment of the patient a single hour.

☞A number of cases of cures performed by the Anti-Dyspeptic Elixer in the vicinity of Pittsburgh can be given.

GEO. W. CARPENTER'S
COMPOUND SYRUP OF LIVERWORT,

A SAFE and Valuable Medicine for Coughs, Spitting of Blood, Consumption, and Liver Complaints.

Most of the medicines made use of for the above diseases are of a stimulating nature, composed generally of Resins and Balsams, in alcoholic solutions, which, although sometimes giving temporary relief, in almost every instance where they are freely used, aggravate the disease, and reduce the strength of the patient.

This article possesses superior advantages over these preparations, its action being of a tonic, invigorating and strengthening nature, thus overcoming the disease by promoting expectoration, and gradully increasing the strength of the patient, and thus, without being attended with any unpleasant effects: it also agrees with the stomach, in a cases, and is a pleasant medicine to take.

TYPE FOUNDRY.

HAVING purchased of Mr. Richard Ronaldson, his long established and very extensive Type Foundry, the subscribers have formed a co-partnership for the purpose of continuing said business, and for the convenience of their friends and patrons, have removed their establishment to a more central part of the city. As it is their intention to keep on hand a good assortment of the best type, and to make such additions and improvements as the taste of the trade and the wants of the country require, they flatter themselves that this establishment will merit a large share of patronage. They have now several founts on hand, which can be furnished at a few hours' notice, and are prepared to make founts of all weights and sizes, from Pearl to 22 lines Pica, including a variety of Ornamental Letter. Their assortment of Cuts, Dashes, Brass Rule, and other Ornaments, will be found to be very extensive, of which specimens will be forwarded to Printers as soon as they can be prepared.

Printing Presses of every description, Printing Ink of the most approved qualities, Composing Sticks, Brass and Common Galleys, Chases, Imposing Stones, Cases, Paper and Press Boards, Standing Presses, Furniture, together with a complete assortment of all articles used in a Printing Office, will be kept constantly on hand.

Small founts, suitable for Book Binders, in great variety, may be had when called for.

Orders from all parts in the Union will be promptly and most carefully attended to, and particularly in supplying sorts for all founts furnished by their predecessors, Binny & Ronaldson, and Richard Ronaldson.

PATENT PLANING MACHINE.—The right to use this valuable machine, invented and patented by William Woodworth, and known as Woodworth's Patent Planing Machine, may be obtained on application to the subscriber for the counties of Allegheny, Butler, Beaver, Washington, Green, Fayette, Somerset, Cambria, Indiana, Jefferson, Clearfield, M'Kean, Warren, Venango, Mercer, Crawford, and Erie, in the State of Pennsylvania. That part of Maryland lying west of the Blue Ridge; all that part of Virginia lying west of the Blue Ridge, except the county of Ohio. The whole of the state of Ohio except the counties of Hamilton, Butler, and Montgomery. The whole of the state of Kentucky, except the counties of Jefferson, Boone, Oldham, Gallatin, and Campbell. The whole of Indiana, except the counties of Floyd, Clark, Jefferson, Dearborn, and Switzerland. The whole of the state of Illinois, and the territory of Michigan. Rights to use the machine in that part of the United States, named above, will be sold by the single county or in larger districts. As it is presumed that no one will purchase without seeing the machine at work, a description of it is deemed unnecessary. Should any person, however, wish to purchase, and find it inconvenient to visit the places where it is in operation, a machine will be furnished, warranted to plane, tongue and groove, and bring to an exact width and thickness, a white pine board of 12 feet long, and of any width from 1 to 14 inches, in one minute and ten seconds, or an oak board of the same dimensions in 2 minutes and 10 seconds. Machines may be seen at work in the cities of New Orleans, Washington, Philadelphia, New York, Boston, and others at the south and east, at Wheeling, Virginia, and at the saw mill of Messrs. Irwin & Herron, in this city.

Persons desiring to purchase will have the certificates of scientific and practical men who have seen it at work, in the different places in which it has been put up, forwarded to them. They give their opinion as to the great value of the invention state the time they have seen boards dressed by this machine, and describe the quality of the work as compared with that performed by hand labor.
